WELCOME

Dear International Educator,

It is with great pleasure that we offer the ninth issue of ELS International Pathways' Journal of International Student Recruitment, presenting pertinent and useful news, information and statistics relating to trends in international student recruitment.

The current issue showcases several of our partners, including The University of Mary Washington (UMW) and Saint Joseph's University. UMW, a recent partner, shares its plans for creating an expanded international student program at its lovely Fredericksburg, Virginia campus. Saint Joseph's administrator David Sicoli discusses their plan to help international students acclimate to campus life.

We also visit with Dr. Mamood Shandiz of Oklahoma City University, who recently returned from a recruiting trip to India. One of our students, Fiona (Feng) Chen, shares her experiences as an ELS student who is now enrolled in Adelphi University. As in each issue, we share important news and trends about international student recruitment and education.

ELS International Pathways helps your institution to increase international student enrollment in a variety of ways. Visit InternationalStudentRecruitment.org to see the many ways we can assist you in recruiting qualified international students.

Our Journal of International Student Recruitment shares the results of our collaborations and offers relevant information on how you too can become more efficient and successful in your international recruitment.

Sincerely,

MARK W. HARRIS
